THURSDAY, APRIL 26.

From the New York Evening Post.

The rascal who still continues openly to insult the country with impunity by the daily publication of his Aurora, and who lately ushered forth the French dispatches of Champagny as "elegant dispatches," though they are so infamous that the Baltimore American has been driven to call them forgeries; this same fellow has this morning come forth with the following lying article in behalf of his master & against the Americans. We give it as it comes, except the suppression of a name or two.

From the Aurora.

Advices from Europe.—We have received a more than usual variety and mass of private correspondence by the recent arrivals from Europe; much of what relates to Spain, some of what relates to England, and a small portion that relates to France, was before received through the public papers.

The principal topic which we find touched upon, is what relates to commerce, it is the principal because it is the only point in which we come into contact with the powers of Europe.

All our accounts concur in the sentiment, that there will be a general and very speedy exclusion from all commercial intercourse with the ports of Europe in connection with France; that this exclusion will extend to "every flag which does not support the rights of neutrals." By this expression we should clearly understand the flag of the United States, as being the only neutral, even if there were not other letters and other facts which rendered it distinct and unquestionable.

We are in possession of not merely the names but the particulars of the transactions of numerous persons in France and England who are concerned in a traffic of the American flag which has exposed the fair commerce of the United States to a great portion of its present sufferings, and which threatens to produce a stagnation most fatal to our fair trade; if not worse consequences. We are in possession of the following facts, & if we are not very much mistaken, the executive will have been furnished by this time with the original evidence under the hands of the parties concerned.

It is a fact that persons going from England to France with American passports, and professing to carry despatches from our minister in London to our minister at Paris, have carried to France British licences for sale.

That men employed as consuls of the U. States, have been engaged in this nefarious traffic.

That this traffic of dishonor is carried on at L'Orient, at Morlaix, &c. that a principal partner and party in this trade, is Mr. John Atkins, of Austin Friars, who is one of the sheriffs of London at this time, and that one of his correspondents is no less than Mr. —— of New York; that this Mr. Atkins, sheriff of London, is one of those who regulated the British smuggling trade with Holland under forged papers and the American flag last summer.

That these loyal Americans about whom the equally loyal Evening Post of N. York and Ledger, of Norfolk, have made so many lamentations; and who have dwelt with so much pathos on the stories of the equally loyal Palmer, and Hopkins, and Pedger; we say that these equally loyal Americans have in the true style of their patriotism, carried on a trade in French licences also; that they have procured those licences by various modes of X. Y. Z. diplomacy, and passed them off for largent, with the utmost composure as the English licences, and forged papers.

One of these loyal Americans had access to the American minister in London, and obtains a passport for France, he takes from Mr. Sheriff Atkins, of London, British licences that are put into the hands of a loyal American consul at an out port, and they are then sold and distributed by another American consul; and all these loyal Americans are when in America, "friends of order"—some of them are indeed, "choice spirits," and of the best blood;—among these we recognise the name of "O——."

Several of the "choice spirits" have appeared at Paris, but the little emperor of Mexico had not reached that point on the 30th January. He had indeed reached Holland, but it seems the door that leads to France on that side was closed, by something like the closing of his march to Mexico; so he appears to have made a counter movement towards Germany, as he before made towards Florida, and it is said was at Frankfort on the Maine, the residence of the prince primate, whence it is said he applied for a French passport; it would be marvellous if the little emperor should in reality make a military entry into Paris.—His friend and agent Broome, is already in public lodgings, for which he pays nothing, nor for the state that surrounds it.

There is one Hunt also at Paris, whose name is Seth; he was in America a violent democrat, and we mention it for the sake of equal justice; some how he has discovered at Paris, that Mr. Jefferson and Mr. Madison, and their friends are all very contemptible people*; and that Burr, Bollman, S——, &c. are very much injured men, and chief justice Marshall the paragon of consistency and the civic virtues; he first boasted of possessing the key to unlock Talleyrands cabinet, but he subsequently sunk into the character of retailer of lands in the moon.

But, it may be said, why has not the American minister at Paris an eye to the credit of his country and government; why does he not explode this gang of adventurers; why does he suffer their nefarious trade, and abuse of the American flag, to be carried on? These questions are all very fine; but these very people will say, and they will even write, that Gen. Armstrong has no intercourse, is held in no respect by the French government.

* A wonderful discovery.

LATE FOREIGN NEWS.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 23.

The following is a copy of a letter addressed by his majesty to the legislative body:—

The King to the Legislative body.

"GENTLEMEN,

"I have been disappointed in my expectation of being enabled to return before the 1st of January. From the annexed documents contained in the Moniteur of yesterday, (the 31st of January,) you will perceive that the result of our affairs is connected with the conduct of the English government.

"The regret which I felt has been considerably increased upon reading the unjust accusation made against us, of having betrayed the cause of the continent, that is, of having been unfaithful to our engagements; and I write this letter to you to diminish the impression which so unjust and astonishing an accusation must make upon your hearts, as well as upon the heart of every true Hollander.

"Whilst, during the four years that have elapsed since the commencement of my reign, the nation, and you in particular, called to watch over her interests, have borne with so much difficulty and distress, but at the same time with so much resignation, the doubling of the imposts, so considerable an augmentation of the public debt, and armaments so great and so disproportionate to the population and means of the kingdom: we little thought that we should have been accused of having violated our engagements and not having done enough; at a moment when the state of maritime affairs operates upon us with a greater pressure than upon all other countries collectively, and when to complete our misfortunes, we are, besides, compelled to sustain a blockade upon the continent.

"It is the heart-felt consciousness of these considerations, gentlemen, which should lead us to the exercise of patience, until the moment when the justice of his majesty the emperor, my brother, shall make reparation for a charge which we have so little deserved.

"I cannot ascertain how long I may yet be prevented from gratifying the first and most anxious of my wishes, namely, that of returning to my capital, and seeing myself in the midst of you at this difficult and critical juncture.

"But however distant that period may be, be assured that nothing can alter my affection for the nation, and attachments to her interests, nor lessen you in my esteem and confidence.

(Signed) LOUIS.

Paris, Feb. 10, 1810.

The following letter addressed by his majesty to the council of state, was this day read by the minister, the vice-president, at a meeting of the council, which was attended by all the ministers and other members.

"The king to the council of state.

"Though I with regret see the end of the third month since my departure fast approaching, nothing has yet been decided with regard to our affairs.

"I cannot, however, suffer a single instant to pass, after my recovery without repeating to you the assurance, that all possible exertions shall continue to be made to preserve the existence of the kingdom.

"We cannot conceal from ourselves that this will cost us great and difficult sacrifices—but I shall not hesitate if there be but a possibility of Holland, after all that can be demanded of it, being suffered to exist, to submit myself to the generosity of the emperor, my brother, in the just expectation, that upon the removal of all the causes of dissatisfaction, we shall receive those indemnifications to which we are so strongly entitled, and which will be more than ever necessary to us.

"My intention in submitting myself to the pleasure of the emperor, my brother, in every thing that he can demand of us is to convince him that we have many enemies; that we have been the victims of calumny, of petty passions and interests; but that we have never ceased, and still continue to admire the emperor, and to conduct ourselves as true friends and old allies of France, tried by numerous sacrifices and various events. Should I be able to succeed in this purpose, as I have every reason to expect, every thing else will follow, inasmuch as it must be both the interest and inclination of France to succor and aggrandize her friends, and not to depress them.

"I therefore entreat you to unite all your efforts to prevent the emigration to foreign countries, and every proceeding that might indicate despondency, and to exhort the nation to await the determination of the emperor upon our fate, with that firmness which is so peculiarly their character, and which so intimately belongs to the justice of their cause.

"I am not ignorant of what every individual suffers, I have done every thing to plead our cause in the most effectual manner. Neither the loss of time, nor the failure of my efforts, nor any other consideration has been able to deter me from my purpose; and accordingly, I have every reason to believe, that if we can come to any arrangement, which does not exclude the possibility of our existence, Holland may still escape the present tempest; particularly if, after all this, there remain not only no grounds, but even no pretext for misunderstanding and dissatisfaction, to which all my efforts are directed.

Your loving king,

LOUIS.

Paris, Feb. 21, 1810.

SPANISH AMERICA.

The following regulations respecting neutral trade, were published at Buenos Ayres on the 7th December:—

All vessels must consign themselves to Spanish merchants.

The consignee must present a manifest of cargo in Spanish to the administration of the custom house, twenty-four hours after arrival.

All goods are admitted except those prohibited, and shall pay the circular duty agreeable to the tariff; and such goods as may not be in the tariff, shall be valued at the prices of Europe.

Goods similar to those manufactured in the country, shall pay a duty of 12 1-2 per cent, over and above the regular duties.

Ox and cow hides shall pay the war tax, on clearances of 12 1-2 per cent. As far as respects the patriotic duty it shall be extinguished.

Vicuneir wool, bark, sheeps' wool, tallow, cocoa and hair, at certain specified prices, to pay a duty of 20 per cent.

The exportation of gold or silver is not allowed. All returns must be made in produce of the country; and to take away the same vessels may come in ballast, and may bring such goods as are permitted for the negro trade.

The Spanish consignee must become bound for the duties, and to pay a fourth in fifteen days after having made the dispatch, and the remaining three fourths in the following three months, that is, one fourth in each month.

All vessels, friends and neutrals, shall be admitted, and must receive a custom house officer on board, as is customary with other vessels, and shall deposit their papers in the secretariodell, governor's office, until a visit is sent for sailing. The Spanish consignee shall not sell by retail on account of any foreigner.

The introduction of wine, oil, vinegar, and aguardiente, (except rum,) is prohibited.

SALEM, April 22.

FROM CORUNNA.

On Sunday last arrived at Marblehead, the schr. Saratoga, captain Tucker, 46 days from Corunna. She had been at Gijon, but left it on the approach of the French, who had taken possession of it. Business was exceeding dull at Corunna, where only 3 dollars could be obtained for fish. The American property at Bilboa St. Sebastians, &c. still remained in a state of sequestration, in the hands of our good friends the French. We are informed that there is not less than two hundred thousand dollars worth of property, belonging to Marblehead now in that situation. Captain Warner and crew, (whose vessel and cargo were seized at Bilboa by the French) were thrown into prison where they were kept twenty days, after which they were by great favor released. Captain Warner writes from Bilboa to his own in Marblehead, under date of Feb. 7, as follows:

"Nothing of consequence has transpired since my last of the 28th of January, respecting the fate of your property here, which remains in the same situation as when I last wrote you, and I am afraid it will be longer than I first expected, before the property is liberated, for by private letters from France I hear that affairs do not bear so good an appearance as before. The first opportunity I shall send the mate and people home if affairs remain the same. On the first instant, a custom house was established here, but the rates of duties are not yet come to light, but it is supposed will be very high; and of course will be to our advantage if the cargo is liberated; which being here two months before the new established custom house, I expect it will be liable to no more than the old expences. In consequence the American and colonial produce is daily rising. Tobacco is retailing at 2 1-2 dollars per lb. and every thing else is rapidly rising."

The French had got possession of all the chief places from Malaga to Almoran near Carthagena, and the land communication between this place and Gibraltar was cut off. Capt. Q. saw the smoking ruins of the fortifications destroyed by the British near Gibraltar.

The opinion respecting Cadiz was, that it would hold out till all the most valuable effects were removed.

Public Sale,

THE subscriber, by virtue of a deed of trust to him from Mr. William Hodgson, dated on the 10th day of November in the year 1808, for the purpose of indemnifying Mr. John Hopkins—will, on FRIDAY, the 27th April next, at the hour of twelve o'clock of that day if fair; if not, on the next fair day at the same hour, proceed to sell, at the court-house, in Alexandria, at public auction, to the highest bidder, for ready money three thousand acres of LAND, situate on the left fork of Big Sandy Creek, which land was, at the time of the grants for the same, in the county of Monongalia, in the state of Virginia.

The above tracts of land were granted by the state of Virginia, to John Allison by three several patents containing respectively one thousand acres, and bearing date on the first day of October, 1784, which land has been since duly conveyed to the said William Hodgson by deed dated 2d of August, 1790.

THURSDAY, APRIL 26.

Extract of a letter from an intelligent London merchant, dated the 7th of March, 1810, received at Norfolk.

"It has been thought for some time that negociation were pending between Mr. Pinkney and the marquis Wellesley of some importance, the detention of the British packet and of the John Adams American despatch ship, much longer than was intended, and the frequent interviews between Wellesley and Pinkney, seem to favor such an opinion, but nothing has transpired, nor is there any clue to guide one to the nature of the negociations which require so much time to settle; certain it is France gives herself no trouble about the United Sates or her trade; she seizes and is condemning American property whenever it comes within her grasp. Below you have a note of prices, all are nominal except flour, as the liscenses to import from Europe are suspended, we think the price of that article will be maintained till after harvest.

"Leaf tobacco 7 a 12d per lb. Stemmed do. 8 a 13d per do. Flour 50 to 60s per barrel. Tar 42 a 45. Cotton 17 a 18d for Virginia growth."

PRIVATE LETTER.

"Paris, March 1st, 1810.

"The splendid and expensive preparations for Napoleon's marriage, are here the sole topics of conversation. He has now condescended to announce, that the Austrian grand duchess, Maria Louisa, is the happy or the wretched object of his choice. This princess is the daughter of Francis II, the present emperor of Austria. She is the grand daughter of Leopold II, and grand niece of Josephus II, both emperors of Germany, and both supposed to have died by poison, administered by Bonaparte's former friends, the French jacobins. Louis XVI and his unfortunate consort, the last and murdered queen of France, Maria Antoinette, (who was also her great aunt) were her god-father and god-mother, and she was called after them. The (by Bonaparte) dethroned Ferdinand IV and Carolina, king and queen of Naples, are her grand parents by mother's side. She is twenty two years and eight months younger than her husband in petio, being born Dec. 12th, 1791. She was of course four years and three months old, when Bonaparte on the 7th of March, 1796, married the, at present, repudiated Josephine. It is said that the offers made by him to marry a Russian, and an English princess, have been rejected with equal hauteur, both at St. Petersburg and St. James' and that the Austrian monarch has been obliged to sacrifice his daughter for the preservation of his dynasty.

"The brewer Santerre, who escorted Louis XVI to the scaffold, died here lately, very repentant.——He disclosed before his death several circumstances and traits of that eventual period. He affirmed that the common executioner, Sampson, having refused to guillotine the king, a member of the Parisian commune, and one of the assassins of the prisoners, in 1792, had volunteered his services.——The name of this wretch was Charles James, son of a mechanic at Brugos, and educated by charity at the Jesuit College, at Leige. He had been recommended by Manuel, as a relation, and was the bosom friend of Marat and Robespierre. Democratic fanaticism made him afterwards, the extenuator as, well as the panegyrist of all the enormities then committed in France. By the orders of Napoleon, the police is in search of this man; but he is said to have, soon after Santerre's discovery, destroyed himself.

"It is reported that four millions of livres annually, are to constitute the private purse of the new empress; for whose dowery are besides assigned the revenues of Gallicia, and of the grand dutchy of Warsaw. The value of the dimonds and jewels intended to form her shrin, exceed fifteen millions of livres. Some of these trinkets are publickly exposed in the windows of the Jewellers on the Quay des Orfevres, in the Palais Royal and in the Rue St. Honore to the great edification of our ruined merchants, and beggared populace.

"The late king of Holland, is according to report, to be the king of Portugal, as soon as that kingdom is conquered. He is however, in the mean time preparing to set out for Rome, as a temporary residence, or, as others have it, as a place of exile, being in disgrace."

Extract of a letter, dated Port-au-Prince, 15th March, 1810.

"Petion is now master by sea. The two fleets came to an engagement a few days since, in which his party gained a complete victory. One of Christophe's brigs was captured and brought in here, and the rest of his fleet fled into Gonaives, much shattered. President Petion's fleet received little or no injury, and will in a few days be before that port to blockade them, and they cannot be repaired there under some months."

A PRINCIPLE AVOWED.

"The first duty of every Frenchman, in whatever situation may place him, is towards his country;" says Napoleon's minister of foreign affairs.

How faithfully the French perform this duty, the least attentive observer of their conduct may easily perceive. They have performed it in Holland, in Switzerland, in Sweden, in Germany, in Prussia, in Russia, in Italy, in Portugal, and in Spain: And now we have got a young Prince of the blood, with ever so many assistants, to perform it here.

Let Americans remember these things, and let them beware lest the Frenchmen amongst us perform their duty towards their country in the same manner that they have wherever else they could get a footing, by bringing us first into alliance with, and then under subjection.

(Boston Repertory.)

Extract from the report of the French Minister of Finance to the Emperor.

"A sufficient time has not yet been afforded to enable me to submit to your majesty a precise statement of the receipts and disbursements of 1809. It is however probable, that the war expenditure for the last year cannot be under 640 millions, of which sum only 350 millions are chargeable upon the public treasury.

"The amount of this expenditure will excite no surprise, when it is considered, that, besides an immense staff, your majesty has, during 1809, maintained an establishment of 600,000 infantry, 100,000 horses, for the cavalry service, and 50,000 for the waggon and artillery train!

"If the year 1809 must thus have been, of necessity, expensive, there is every reason to conclude that the year 1810 will admit of great retrenchments—In fact your majesty levied 200,000 in your military establishment, and it does not appear to be your intention to make any levies in 1810.

"Sixty thousand horses were bought and equipped in 1809. It does not seem to be in your contemplation to purchase any in 1810.

"Your majesty also expects to be able to make a reduction of 200,000 in your military establishment, and to limit it to seven hundred thousand men; one half of this force being intended to carry on the operation in Spain, and the other half to be employed in the defence of the coasts, and in maratime expeditions.

"Upwards of 900,000 new muskets are deposited in our arsenals, exclusive of the foreign muskets which the fortune of war has thrown into our hands; and your majesty has upwards of 40,000 pieces of cannon, with all their necessary equipments."

Congress of the United States.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, April 24.

[CONCLUDED.]

[Taken for the Alexandria Gazette.]

The question on Mr. Smilie's amendment was taken and lost, 31 to 44.

The section to reduce the marine corps was stricken out.

Mr. Key moved to add the navy yard at Washington to those which are to be retained. This motion prevailed 54 to 42.

The committee rose and reported the bill as amended.

Mr. Smilie reported the following bill.

A BILL

To reduce and consolidate the army of the United States.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That the President of the United States be authorised, out of the troops raised and now in service, under the "Act to raise for a limited time an additional military force," to complete the regiment of light artillery, to form and complete two regiments of infantry, agreeably to the provisions of said act; also to form a company of bombardiers to be annexed to the corps of engineers; to fill up the regiments authorised by the "Act fixing the military peace establishment of the U. S."; and to discharge the three brigadier-generals, and all the officers and men who may be supernumerary by this arrangement, and to discontinue the recruiting service.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That all the officers who may be discharged under this act shall receive three months pay, according to their respective grades, in addition to what may be due them at the time of their discharge, and such allowance for travelling from their place of discharge to their respective places of residence, as is prescribed by the "Act fixing the military peace stabilishment of the U. States;" Provided, That whenever the public exigencies require the calling into service of any of the officers discharged by this act, they shall have rank equal to that under which they retire.

The house proceeded to consider the naval bill as reported by the committee of the whole.

Mr. Milnor moved to postpone the bill indefinitely.

Before any question was taken the house adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, April 25.

Mr. Dana presented a resolution to direct the post master general to lay before this house a statement of the number of post offices; the sums received for postage; the compensations paid to deputy post-masters; the charges for conveyance of the mails; the aggregate amount of incidental expences of the post office, and the nett revenue of the establishment; together with information respecting the extension of the post roads, for each year, from the 4th of March 1789, to the end of the year 1809. This resolution passed.

A bill from the senate to continue the charter of the bank of Alexandria, in the District of Columbia, to the year 1831, was read twice and referred to a committee of the whole to morrow.

The loan bill was read a third time and the question put—shall the bill pass?

Mr. Randolph moved to postpone the further consideration of the bill until to-morrow. The motion was negatived—47 to 50.

Mr. Taylor moved to recommit the bill—This motion was likewise negatived.—Mr. Stanford moved to lay the bill on the table. This motion was also negatived—39 to 61.

The question on the final passage of the bill was taken by ayes and noes and carried—Ayes 77—Noes 35.

The unfinished business of yesterday—the consideration of the naval bill, as reported by a committee of the whole—was taken up. Mr. Milnor withdrew his motion for indefinite postponement.

FOR SALE,

At the town of OCCOQUAN, on the 21st day of May next, at Public Auction,

That valuable MILL SEAT,

late the property of Elisha Janney,

SITUATE in the said town of Occoquan. On this scite was erected, about eleven years ago, a spacious three story BRICK MILL HOUSE, which ever since has been occupied as a manufacturing mill, until about twelve months ago it was destroyed by fire—the stones and bricks of the former walls, and the new work of the buildings are upon the spot, and would answer for a new mill, which might with their aid, be erected in time to grind the growing crop of wheat.

The advantages appertaining to this valuable property, which in the driest seasons never want water, being furnished by the Occoquan river, are so generally known as not to need a particular enumeration; suffice it to state that it is situated in a healthy and flourishing little town at the Falls of the river, about 16 miles south of Alexandria, on the great stage road, leading north and south—in the heart of a wheat country—and has navigable water to the mill door, where vessels may come of sufficient burthen to carry 500 barrels of flour. With this valuable seat for water works of any description, there may be had about 250 acres of well timbered land, lying on the opposite side of the river.

For this property one-tenth of the purchase money will be required in hand, and the residue in three equal annual payments, with interest from the day of sale

Extract from a Law of the Corporation.

AND if any master or mistress of a family or any owner of taxable property, shall neglect or refuse to give in a list of all male tythables, belong to, or residing in his or her family; or of all his or her taxable property, within five days after demand made thereof by any assessor, the person so offending shall forfeit and pay one hundred dollars. And if any person whatsoever shall wilfully omit or misrepresent in the list given in, any tythable, or any taxable property, or shall in any other manner conceal the same from the knowledge of the assessors, the person so offending shall forfeit and pay double the amount of the tax imposed on such tythable or taxable property. Every merchant, shop keeper, mechanic, or other person, having in his or her service or employment any clerk, journeyman, apprentice, or assistant, shall render an account of the same in his or her list of tythables; and shall be accountable for the capitation tax hereby imposed, in like manner and under the same penalties, as if such clerk, journeyman, apprentice, or assistant, were a member of his or her family.

Public Sale.

ORIGINAL FAMILY MEDICINES,

Prepared by RICHARD LEE & SON,

Have been in high estimation and general use throughout the United States, for upwards of ten years. And, it is no inconsiderable evidence of their utility, that during the above period, numerous imitations of every article, the productions of ignorance and experience, urged by envy and penury, have been intruded on the public, seen for a day, and then perished! Others now succeed them, which in like manner are fast descending to the tomb of the Capulets; while OUR remedies become more generally used, and acquire a daily accession of deserved celebrity.

Lee's Worm-destroying Lozenges.

This medicine is superior to any ver offered to the public, being innocent and mild certain and efficacious in its operations.—Should no worms exist in the body, it will without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders.

Lee's Elixer.

A certain remedy for colds, coughs, asthmas, and particularly the whooping cough, so destructive to children.

Lee's Essence of Mustard,

So well known for the cure of rheumatisms, gout, palsy, sprains, &c. &c.

Lee's Grand Restorative,

Proved by long experience to be unequalled in the cure of nervous disorders, consumptions, lowness of spirits, inward weakness, &c.

Lee's Anti-Bilious Pills,

For the prevention and cure of bilious and malignant fevers.

Lee's Sovereign Ointment for the Itch,

Which is warranted an infallible remedy at one application.

Infallible Ague & Fever Drops,

For the cure of agues, remittent, and intermittent fevers.

Lee's Genuine Persian Lotion,

Celebrated for the cure of ring worms setter, &c.

Lee's Genuine Eye Water.

An effectual remedy for all diseases of the eyes.

Tooth-ache Drops.

Which give immediate relief.

Lee's Damask Lip Salve.

Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

The Anodyne Elixir,

For the cure of every kind of head-ach.

The Indian Vegetable Specific,

For the cure of venereal complaints

Those medicines having come into general use, they are frequently purchased not only by Druggists, but by country store keepers to sell again; in order that the purchasers may be confident they have the original genuine medicines; wherever they purchase they have but to observe, that every article of medicine has on the outward wrapper the signature of the proprietors.

FOR SALE,

A valuable new MERCHANT MILL, in complete repair, with two pair of French stays for wheat and one pair of Allegany stones for corn. There is machinery of every description for conveying the wheat from the waggon and from the packing with a very small portion of manual labor. It may be tended with less than half the labor in common mills. It is situate on the main turnpike road leading from Ashby's Gap to Alexandria, on a good stream of water as any in the state. It is capable of making 30 barrels of flour every twenty four hours;—It is also expected the new paved road will come directly by it, which will make the carriage of flour to Alexandria short, cheap and easy.

Any person wishing to purchase will do well to make immediate application, as possession will be given the first of July. It is presumed that any person wishing to purchase would want to see the premises, where the terms will be made known by
